

CHIROPRACTIC SLEEP ACADEMY® · FOUNDDING LEGITIMACY

The institution that tried to eliminate my profession was found liable in federal court. I lead from that vindicatd ground.

THE RECORD, IN THREE FLOWS

1 · COMMITTEE

Committee on Quackery

The AMA formed it in 1963-64 (H. Doyl Taylor, head of the AMA Department of Investigation, drove it).

2 · GOAL

Contain & eliminate

In the AMA's own internal words:
"first, the containment of chiropractic and, ultimately, the elimination of chiropractic."

3 · LIABILITY

Found liable · Sherman Act

In Wilk v. AMA, a federal court found the AMA liable for an unlawful conspiracy under §1 of the Sherman Antitrust Act. Permanent injunction issued.

The story

In 1963, the American Medical Association created a Committee on Quackery. Its documented purpose was blunt: to contain and eliminate the chiropractic profession. For over a decade, organized medicine worked to keep Doctors of Chiropractic out — boycotted, isolated, labeled.

It did not work. In Wilk v. AMA, a federal court found the AMA liable for an illegal conspiracy under the Sherman Antitrust Act and issued a permanent injunction — ordering the AMA to publish the ruling in its own journal. The profession they tried to eliminate was vindicated in federal court.

Chiropractic did not survive by becoming something else. It stayed itself — its own scope, its own philosophy — took the hit, and won.

Two professions, two playbooks

Profession	Method used on it	Result
Osteopathy (DOs)	Absorption / merger — become MDs, take drugs & surgery, dissolve the distinction (California, 1962)	Survived by becoming organized medicine; lost much of its distinct identity and its manual art
Chiropractic (DCs)	Containment / boycott — the Committee on Quackery	Stayed distinct, refused to merge, took the hit, fought and won in federal court

Osteopathy chose assimilation; chiropractic chose to stay itself. That is the ground the Chiropractic Sleep Academy is built on.

One precision point. The AMA disbanded the Committee on Quackery around 1974 — but never publicly repudiated the boycott, and the court found its effects continued (which is why the injunction issued years later). They retired the committee, not the agenda.

The record (sourced). Wilk v. American Medical Association. US District Court, N.D. Illinois, 1987 (Judge Susan Getzendanner) — AMA found liable under §1 of the Sherman Antitrust Act; affirmed, US Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit, 1990; permanent injunction issued. It was a civil antitrust finding — "found liable," not "found guilty." · Chiropractic Sleep Academy® · www.ChiropracticSleepAcademy.net
