

CHIROPRACTIC
SLEEP ACADEMY

Your patient asked me to give you this.

A short note about working together on airway care.

Given to you by your patient · on behalf of their CSA-certified Doctor of Chiropractic

WHY YOU'RE HOLDING THIS

A coordinated hand, not a competing one

Your patient is working with a Doctor of Chiropractic certified by the Chiropractic Sleep Academy™ on the structural side of their sleep and airway.

They wanted you to have this, because the best airway outcomes happen when the dentist and the Doctor of Chiropractic coordinate — not compete.

This isn't about changing anything you do. It's about making your work easier and more durable.

WHAT A CSA-CERTIFIED DOCTOR OF CHIROPRACTIC DOES

The global picture around your local one

We evaluate the whole structural frame the airway sits in — posture and cervical curve, pelvis, cranial mechanics, and how the body loads from the feet up.

In plain terms: we help make sure the body can accept and hold an oral appliance, instead of quietly fighting it.

WHY THIS HELPS YOUR CHAIR TIME

Fewer failures. Faster acceptance.

When the structural frame is addressed alongside your appliance:

- fewer remakes and titration stalls,
- fewer TMJ and intolerance call-backs,
- faster patient acceptance of the plan,
- shared documentation and pre/post testing you can stand behind.

The appliance supports the structure — it doesn't replace it, and we never touch your scope. You choose and deliver the device; we support the body around it.

HOW THE TEAM WORKS

Everyone in their lane

- You (dentist): open the conversation, image, choose and deliver the appliance.
- Doctor of Chiropractic: whole-system structural evaluation and support.
- Sleep physician: reads the sleep study and manages moderate-to-severe disease.

Sleep studies stay physician-read. Everyone stays in their lane; the patient gets a coordinated plan.

For the patient: "My Doctor of Chiropractic and dentist are working together on my airway — here's a note for you."

Dentists open the door. Doctors of Chiropractic assess the whole house. Oral appliances support the structure — they don't replace it.
